

National Poison Prevention Week

March 16-22, 2008

Kick-off Event • Thursday, March 13 • Union Station West Hall

Be a part of the Poison Prevention Week Council's Union Station event on Thursday, March 13, 2008 to Kick-Off Poison Prevention Week 2008.

This public event will showcase exhibitions from Council's partner organizations and government agencies as well as host a press event to highlight poisoning as a public health problem and the work of organizations working to prevent poisonings.

Additionally, the event will provide an opportunity to showcase the 2008 Poison Prevention Week Poster contest winners. The event will be held in the exhibit area of Union Station where thousands of consumers pass each day. We are confident that this new venue will provide us with a tremendous opportunity for outreach.

You won't want to miss the opportunity to showcase your organization and poison prevention activities. There are only 20 exhibit spaces available, so registration will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis. The cost of an exhibit table for Council members is $1,000. The non-member rate is $1,500.

For more information or to register your organization for this event, please contact Nancy Bock (nbock@sdaqh.org) by January 31, 2008 for the registration form and additional materials.

What is National Poison Prevention Week?

National Poison Prevention Week, the third week in March each year, is a week nationally designated to highlight the dangers of poisonings and how to prevent them. However, every day people can and do prevent poisonings. We invite you to participate in this extraordinary event to raise awareness of poison prevention activities helping to ensure the safety of children and adults in their homes and communities.
